Harden: Attorney for the City of Savannah, and President of the Georgia Historical Society, Who Died April 19th, 1873 Our community was shocked on yesterday by the announcement of the death of Judge Edward J. Harden, which event occurred suddenly, at the Indian Springs, at a very early hour. Judge Harden was one of the oldest and most prominent members of the Savannah Bar. He was a genial and accomplished gentleman, an humble Christian, and a most estimable citizen, both in public and private life. He was born in the county of Bryan, on the 19th of November, 1813. Pursuing his education in that county, he came to Savannah when quite a young man and accepted a teacher s place in the Chatham Academy, then under the supervision of Professor George White. He subsequently studied law, was admitted to the Bar, and opened an office in this city in 1834, since which time he has resided here. Judge Harden was at one time Judge of the City Court of Savannah. During the war he was Judge of the Confederate Court for the District of Georgia, and at the time of his death occupied the position of City Attorney. After the decease of Bishop Elliott, Judge Harden was elected to succeed him as President of the Georgia Historical Society. He never mingled in political life, but devoted himself to the practice of his profession, and the culture of his literary tastes. The result of the latter has been given to the public in the shape of a memorial of the life, character and services of Governor...
